

CAPE POINT - SEALS, PENGUINS AND KIRSTENBOSCH BOTANICAL GARDENS FULL DAY

The Cape Peninsula is wild and unspoilt, with spectacular and unforgettable views

Driving through the wonders of the Peninsula is a magical experience. There are viewpoints en route which are ideal for picnics and sundowners, but keep an eye out for cheeky baboons! We then visit the Kirstenbosch National Botanical Garden, which is acclaimed as one of the great botanic gardens of the world.

Cape Point

Cape Point, the most south-westerly tip of Africa, is a spectacular, narrow finger of land, covered in endemic fynbos and home to picturesque bays, beaches, rolling green hills and valleys.

Apart from the spectacular view, you'll be able to see the most powerful lighthouse on the South African coast, which helps guide ships safely through perilous waters that have seen to the end of many a vessel.

Chapman's Peak Drive winds its way between Noordhoek and Hout Bay and is touted as one of the most spectacular marine drives in the world.

These appointed rest areas also offer the opportunity to take photographs of the sheer cliffs and breathtaking seascapes. During whale season, you might be lucky enough see southern right whales in the ocean below.

Kirstenbosch National Botanical Gardens

Kirstenbosch National Botanical Garden is acclaimed as one of the great botanic gardens of the world. Few gardens can match the sheer grandeur of the setting of Kirstenbosch, against the eastern slopes of Cape Town's Table Mountain. More than just a garden, Kirstenbosch is part of a nature reserve.

The 36 hectare garden is part of a 528 hectare estate that contains protected mountainside supporting natural forest and fynbos along with a variety of animals and birds. The Kirstenbosch Estate borders the Table Mountain National Park.
